We start the day with...

...the winelands' most romantic love story.

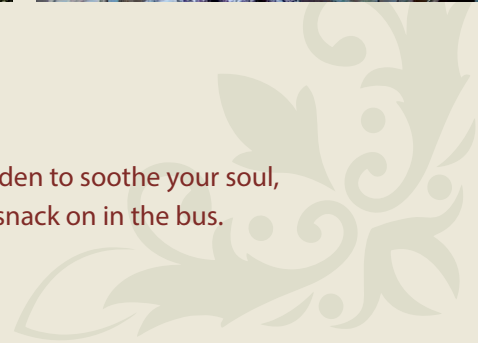

A soldier who was stationed at the Cape, was granted this land in 1685 to start farming with vineyards & making wine. He could not, however, forget the beautiful slave woman, Anselva van de Caab, who was kept at the slave quarters near the Gardens in Cape Town. The soldier, Laurens Campher, would often walk for 3 days to visit his love.

Join me and we can finish this story and many others while enjoying Mr Campher's award winning nectar from the grape

Our second stop...

Our second stop is a Cape Dutch Architecture homestead estate with a garden to soothe your soul, and a farm shop of renown. We buy biltong & freshly baked bread to snack on in the bus.

Franschhoek, South Africa's gourmet capital, will host our second tasting

Nestled between towering mountains in the beautiful Cape winelands, lies the magnificent Franschhoek.

Take a relaxed drive through the food and wine heartland of South Africa and enjoy its wonderful crafts, art, antique shops and galleries.

Traditional South African barbeque for lunch

Socialise around the fire, or enjoy a game of Pétanque, while we prepare the 'braai' in front of you and guide you through the history of this unique cultural tradition.

Our third tasting...

A scenic, 'off the beaten track', would lead you to one of Stellenbosch's hidden jewels. Enjoy this family estate with it's breathtaking surroundings and handcrafted boutique wines.

Our fourth tasting...

...will either be in the Stellenbosch area, or a glass of wine at a winestudio in the heart of Stellenbosch.

All in good time, because life is too short to be rushed.

"Please can I pass my thanks on to Andre for the winelands tour he conducted for my clients from Cape Town earlier on in the month? They had an incredible day and considering that they were in the Okavango Delta for 4 days and stayed at Tongabezi Zambia after that, the fact that their favourite day of their trip was with Travel with André was quite an achievement!" - Audley Travel
